NCSIR 2013

Dear All,

Warm wishes on the behalf of organising committee of 17th National Conference of Society of Indian Radiographers'.

At the onset I sincerely thank the executive committee of Society of Indian Radiographers' and Radiographers' Association of Maharashtra for giving opportunity to Pune unit of Radiographers' Association of Maharashtra to hold the 17th National Conference in Mahabaleshwar.

Mahabaleshwar with its scenic beauty and divine touch of origins of river Krishna, Koyna, Venna , Gayatri and Savitri makes a serene place to stay. The academic sessions are designed keeping in mind the fast changing trends in Radiography and revision of good old concepts of Radiography and Radiation protection. I'm sure this conference will enlighten the radiographer fraternity academically and will also give them a much needed break to enjoy our Puneri and Maharashtrian hospitality.

As the theme of this conference goes "Think Different" the organizing committee and all the hardworking members of Pune unit of Radiographers' Association of Maharashtra are taking great efforts to make it "Really Different" on the fronts of academics, hospitality, recreation and fellowship.

So friends, book your seat today to enjoy the serene atmosphere of Mahabaleshwar for a great academic feast.

Dr Sachin Patil

Head - Department of Radio-Imaging
Niramaya Hospital, Chinchwad, Pune

Dear Radiographer Friends,

If radiography is an art then the radiographer is an artist. The radiographer performs the unique task of scientifically irradiating various parts of the human body to the best of his ability to reveal normal anatomy and also the pathology. His task is indeed challenging because many a times the patients may not be in the most cooperative frame of mind and it's here the skill of the radiographer is tested to the maximum limits. Radiographers are therefore quintessential for a successful radiological practice, be it small diagnostic centers, multispecialty hospitals or educational institutes.

Radiographers' Association of Maharashtra (RAM) is leading the radiographers by guiding and training them in this fine art. RAM provides the budding radiographers with knowledge, tips and tricks of performing efficient radiography. RAM is a good platform where all the radiographers can meet, discuss their problems and find solutions with the main aim of providing meaning full use of their skills for patient benefit and therefore benefit society at large.

This conference arranged by RAM full fills all this criteria and I am sure it will raise the standards of radiography education to a higher level. This conference is the logical step to bridge the ever increasing knowledge gap in the rapidly evolving world of radiological imaging. This conference also provides the participants much needed break from the routine and demanding busy schedules.

The organizers of the event have seen to it that no stone is left unturned to make this even a huge success. I wish them best wishes for this prestigious event.

Regards

Dr Amit Kharat

Associate Professor of Radiology, DPU
